"A Life You Can Smile Back At"

Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is more important than any other.

~ Abraham Lincoln

'Success'. This is a word we hear often. A word that has multi-dimensions, carries many definitions and expectations. Over the years, working closely with young minds, interacting with them and walking alongside their journeys, I have been often questioned - what does success mean to you?

Every time, I find myself returning to the same quiet answer:

Success, to me, is when you can look back at your life and feel no regrets. This is that dimension of success which I value most. Every time, my heart returns to the same quiet thought: for me, success is when I can turn back and look at life without any regrets.

It is not about the medals, certificates or reaping accolades. It is not about always getting things right and being appreciated. It is about living in a way that leaves us feeling at peace. It is about making choices that reflect our values, standing up when it is easier to sit down, and speaking gently even when the world grows loud and harsh.

Regrets often come from the things we did not do - from the words we did not say, the risks we did not take, or the moments we let slip away. A life without regrets does not mean a life without mistakes - it means we owned our action and choices, we realised and grew from our failures, and we stayed grounded.

I try to remind my students that they do not have to be the best. They just have to be real. Be curious, be courageous, and above all, be kind-to others and to yourself. One day, when you pause to look back, let your heart be full - not with the weight of what you missed, but with the warmth of what you lived.

. No regrets means:

- Make choices which are in tandem with your values.
- Accept failures and use them as a stepping stone.
- Cherish and nurture relationships.
- Do not let fear hold you back from trying or speak up.
- Stay true to yourself.

Success is not the destination. It is the journey to this destination. It is the quiet confidence that comes from knowing we have lived with a meaning and a purpose.

Dear students, in the rush of securing high marks, reaching the desired goals, and growing up, do not forget to pause and ask yourself - am I being true to myself? Because in the end, success is not about impressing the world; it is about living in such a way that your own heart feels at peace. That way, when you look back one day, you will smile - not just at what you have achieved, but at who you became!

INVESTITURE CEREMONY

CHIEF GUEST, Sri. R. ILANGO IPS

The 2025 Investiture Ceremony of Hari Sri Vidya Nidhi was held on 18th July, 2025. This ceremony is held every year to bestow upon the new student leaders their responsibilities and duties. This year, Hari Sri presented a set of seventeen new captains eager to take the lead and guide the school through yet another promising year.

The ceremony commenced with a warm welcome speech greeting the dignitaries. The Chief Guest of the ceremony was Sri. R. Ilango IPS who is the Commissioner of Police for Thrissur City. He was accompanied by his better half, Mrs. Varsha Ilango. In his address, Mr. Ilango fondly recalled his experiences as a young house captain during his school days and shared valuable insights from his career and life, which left the audience inspired. A bouquet and a token of appreciation were presented to the Chief Guest by the Founder Principal, Ms. Nalini Chandran.

The investiture ceremony began with the introduction of the high spirited outgoing house captains followed by their successors. Marching behind them came the helpful co-curricular captains and their successors. Following them were the energetic sports captains accompanied by the new sports captains. Meanwhile the school choir gave us a musical treat under the guidance of our music teachers, Ms. Geetha Laxman and Mr. Kiran. Last but not the least came the school captains who were ready to hand over their roles to the leaders of tomorrow.

Subsequently, the flag passing ceremony was held, symbolizing the formal transfer of responsibility and authority from the outgoing leaders to the newly appointed captains. The new leaders stepped forward to receive the flag from their predecessors. The outgoing captains wished their successors good luck for their tenure. The outgoing captains then adorned their successors with their sashes signifying leadership and authority. Nihaal Krishna A. Unmesh, the outgoing school captain, delivered a heartfelt speech reflecting on his journey and expressing gratitude to all those who had supported him.

The badging ceremony took place with the various teachers badging and wishing the new captains. The main captains were badged by the chief guest Sri. R. Ilango IPS and our Principal Ms. Preetha Venugopal. As a mark of responsibility the captains took their oath to uphold the school's values and honour. The newly appointed school captain, Aarush Nair, then gave a wonderful speech which was followed by an inspiring address by our principal. The outgoing captains subsequently returned their badges and were presented with certificates of merit in recognition of their dedication and service.

The ceremony continued with the introduction of Hari Sri's special set of captains - the à la carte captains who marched forward, received their badges, and took their oath of duty. A vote of thanks was then delivered by Abhiram V. of Class XI, expressing gratitude to the dignitaries, teachers, and parents for their presence and encouragement. The ceremony closed with applause filling the atmosphere. Overall, the Investiture Ceremony was a grand success, instilling a sense of pride and responsibility among the new leaders. Witnessing the captains take charge inspired many students to aspire for leadership roles in the future.

Executive Director

Dear Hari Sri Family,

It is that time of the year when the old order changeth, yielding place to new. At a well-orchestrated Investiture Ceremony, the erstwhile captains handed over charge to a new set of vibrant captains. The Police Commissioner of Thrissur, Sri. Ilango IPS, was the chief guest. PAWS, Thrissur, organised a short play revolving around the protection of street dogs and safety measures for the public. The performance, which was both humorous and thought-provoking, piqued the interest of the students. Myriad sports events were held at the Zonal level and our intrepid sports aficionados brought laurels to the school. Our students also attended the PVMUN session held at the Paramakkavu School where they could deliberate on world issues and put forth their own views on them as well. The memories of Kargil and the victory hard won on 26th July, 1991 have been expressed through a heartfelt poem in this issue. Lakshmi M.R. was the recipient of the prestigious JCI Pratibha Puraskar this year. It was a proud moment for all of us as she walked down the aisle with her parents to receive the award. Signing off for the moment...

When I came to know that I was the recipient of the JCI award, I was filled with disbelief, joy, and overwhelming gratitude. It was a dream I had quietly nurtured and suddenly, it was real. This award isn't just mine; it belongs to everyone who believed in me — my teachers, my parents, my friends, and the school that helped shape me into who I am. Holding that award, I didn't just feel proud — I felt ready. Ready to aim higher, give back more, and carry this honour with responsibility.

THE FRANK ANTHONY MEMORIAL DEBATE COMPETITION-JUNIOR CATEGORY

The Frank Anthony Memorial Debate Competition - Junior Category, an arena of words, assertions and arguments, was held at Loyola School, Sreekariyam, Thiruvananthapuram, on 14th July, 2025. The Hari Sri team comprised of Akarsha G. Nair of class X-A and Prarthana G.S. of class IX-D. The prizes bagged are:- Best Speaker - Prarthana G.S., Best Runner-up Team Hari Sri Vidya Nidhi, Akarsha G. Nair and Prarthana G.S. The team has advanced to the Regional level, consisting of Kerala, Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. We convey our heartfelt gratitude to Preetha Miss, Deepti Ma'am and Kavitha Miss, all of whom have been instrumental in guiding us and securing our win. As we head to the Regionals representing the state of Kerala, we carry not just accolades, but the hopes and prayers of everyone who helped us reach this stage.

- Prarthana G.S., IX-D

THE FRANK ANTHONY MEMORIAL DEBATE COMPETITION-SENIOR CATEGORY

The prestigious Frank Anthony Memorial All-India Inter-School Debate Competition was held on July 14th at Sri Adwayananda Public School, Malakkara, bringing together some of the brightest young minds for a spirited battle of words and wit.

Representing Hari Sri Vidya Nidhi School were Keshav Menon Singh and Ruhi Elia Joseph, who spoke on the highly relevant and thought-provoking topic: "AI in Education will widen the gap between privileged and under privileged students." With confident delivery, sharp reasoning, and compelling arguments, both debaters captivated the audience and the judges alike.

In a proud moment for Hari Sri, Keshav was adjudged the Best Speaker, while Ruhi secured the Runner-Up Best Speaker award. Together, their combined excellence earned them the prestigious Best Team Award, showcasing not just individual brilliance but also seamless teamwork.

The event was a celebration of critical thinking, clarity of speech, and the power of youthful voices engaging with the challenges of a fast-changing world.

-- Ruhi Elia Joseph, XI Hum.

The children of Hari Sri Vidya Nidhi had an amazing opportunity to attend a Model United Nations at Paramakkavu Vidya Mandir on the 18th and 19th of July, 2025.

MUNs are a platform for students to improve their understanding of global issues and diplomacy. It also increases confidence and public speaking skills, and provides valuable networking opportunities.

The delegation of Hari Sri consisted of 10 students from both High School and Plus Two. The MUN had three committees, namely United Nations Security Council, Global Crisis Response Council and World Health Organisation.

In the UNSC, the agenda focused on 'Mitigating Geopolitical Frictions and Fostering Regional Stability in Central and South Asia.' Our delegates participated in intense debates and consultations, demonstrating their diplomatic skills and awareness of global affairs.

In the WHO committee, the topic was 'Mental Health as a Fundamental Right.' Notably, Ishaan Krishna Thamatoor, one of our students, co-authored a draft resolution that was successfully passed.

The GCRC agenda was 'Strengthening Diplomatic Relations and Restoring Geo Political Stability'. It offered a unique simulation set 100 years in the future, where countries addressed hourly crisis updates and tackled evolving challenges in real time.

The delegates from Hari Sri contributed thoughtfully in consultations and played an active role in drafting solutions and resolutions to global crises.

Through speeches and debates some students overcame their fear of public speaking. The committees were engaging with dance, music and other activities that always lead to a fun and relaxed atmosphere. They had the opportunity to network with peers from other institutions, making the experience not only exciting but also memorable. The MUN was an enriching experience for students helping them understand global issues and improve their critical thinking. All the students received certificates of participation and two of our students - Gayathri V.S. of class 10 and Ishaan Krishna Thamatoor of class 11 even received verbal mentions from the committee for their active participation and outstanding contributions.

As John F. Kennedy once said, 'Children are the world's most valuable resource and its best hope for the future'. Participating in the MUN inspired the students of Hari Sri to connect more closely with this quote. The experience was so enjoyable and rewarding that the students are already looking forward to participating in future MUNs.

CHOCOLATE DAY

World Chocolate Day is celebrated on 7th July. It is an annual celebration of chocolate which occurs globally. It is a day dedicated to chocolate. On this day, people often gift chocolates to their loved ones, share chocolate treats and enjoy chocolate themed desserts. The occasion is meant to spread joy, happiness and kindness among people. This date is believed to mark the arrival of chocolate in Europe, specifically when it was first introduced from America. At first, chocolate was used as a bitter beverage. Then it evolved into the sweet treat we know today. This day is celebrated with various events in many countries. Overall, it is a delightful occasion to satisfy your sweet tooth and show appreciation for those special in your life.

MY AFRICAN SAFARI

Samyuktha Nair, IV D

Simba, Mufasa, Alex, Marty. I am sure all of you would have thought about the movies 'Lion King' and 'Madagascar.' I had the rare opportunity to see them and more in real life. Mom said we are going to see them. We flew from Kochi to Nairobi, the capital of Kenya. Then, from Nairobi, we drove down to Massai Marra National Reserve Park. On the way there, we passed through "The Great Rift Valley". The Great Rift Valley is a long, deep depression with steep, wall-like cliffs, extending from Jordan in south western Asia southward through Africa - through Kenya till Mozambique.

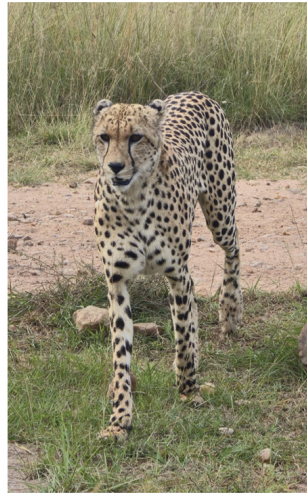

After a journey of six hours we reached the camp which was situated inside the reserve park. They took us to our room which, to my surprise, was actually a big tent which had a bedroom and bathroom. My mom told me to get ready soon, or we would miss the first sunset in the Savannah. We got into a modified land cruiser for the safari. It was open with a clear view outside. The ride through the Savannah was bumpy. You will not believe what my eyes saw. Hundreds of zebras grazing; it was as if my vision was filled with black and white stripes.

The younger ones had brown stripes. I could not hold my excitement when I saw herds of gazelles, antelopes, topi, and many more varieties of deer. We were accompanied by my mom's friends, who were wildlife photographers. I realized that the photos they captured were a memory made forever. Suddenly, the driver said something to my dad, and he held me tight. The driver drove fast through the bumpy road, and we were bouncing thanks to my dad, who held me in place. The vehicle stopped after 15 mins of bumpy ride. My dad turned my head to the other side of the jeep and told me, "Look there." I could not believe my eyes. I was staring directly at Mufasa, a huge lion.

Also behind him was his family. The pride of lions had small cubs, too. In the meantime the sun came down and the whole place turned golden and this was one of the most beautiful sunsets I saw with lions, lionesses and cubs. I could not have asked for more. Seeing them free, unlike in the zoo where they are caged, it made a huge impact. I truly could understand the earth. We returned to camp and had a good dinner and I slept well.

The next day, we woke up early to go on a hot air balloon ride. When we reached there, I saw a balloon ready. Thinking it was our ride. I went towards it. But my mom said to me our ride was behind me. When I looked behind I saw a flat round cloth on the ground. It was a deflated balloon. A few moments later, they started inflating the balloon with huge fans, and then they used fire. We got inside, and we flew high in the sky, and while floating, we saw a lot of animals grazing. Finally, we landed sideways. We had a lovely breakfast in the forest and went back to camp.

During our safari, we saw a cheetah hunting, but it missed its prey. A cheetah can run fast only for a short time, then it has to rest. Suddenly I heard a meow sound, I asked the guide what that sound was, and he said it was the cheetah. We also saw a leopard feasting on top of a tree. We saw an infant zebra, just born, trying to walk. A giraffe munching on leaves and hippos fighting like the final IPL RCB vs. Punjab Kings.

We saw lots of animals as it was the The Great Wildebeest Migration. The Great Wildebeest Migration is a remarkable wildlife phenomenon involving millions of wildebeest, zebras, and other herbivores migrating across the Serengeti-Mara ecosystem in Tanzania and Kenya. This annual journey is driven by the animals' instinct to follow the rains and find fresh grazing pastures and water sources. We were in the Kenyan Marra side.

I said good bye for now after four days of an awesome safari with a promise to come back again on another exciting adventure.

It is said, that when someone dies, he becomes a star, but there was one who was born a star. Regarded as a musical genius, the King of Pop, and a fashion icon, he was not just a man but rather a global phenomenon who redefined stardom, fanhood and euphoria.

He was Michael Joseph Jackson or simply 'MJ' for millions of his worshippers from every nook and corner of the world. A musician, singer, composer, songwriter, dancer and performer. MJ was, above all, the biggest entertainer this world will ever see. Releasing his first hit song, 'Ben' in 1972 followed by 'Don't Stop 'Til You Get Enough' in 1979, he went on to create songs that continue to resonate in everyone's mind. Some of his best hits are 'Thriller', 'Beat It', 'Billie Jean', 'I Just Can't Stop Loving You', 'Bad', 'The Way You Make Me Feel', 'Man in the Mirror' and 'Dangerous'. Sadly, he passed away in 2009.

PROTECTION OF STREET DOGS PROGRAMME

Ms. Preethi Sreevalsan

On 15th July, the children of Grades VII, VIII and IXth were shown a skit to make them aware that dogs too have their place on earth. The informative programme was conducted by Ms. Preethi Sreevalsan, and her organization named PAWS, Thrissur, that is committed to animal welfare and community education. The skit was performed by Mr. Manu and his team. It focused on showing how to prevent stray dogs from attacking you. The various expressions made by strays and what they imply, how they are extremely prone to attack something if it invades their territory were all shown with a mixture of acting, singing and dancing which had the students laughing in their seats while simultaneously making them aware that they should be careful not to provoke stray dogs. It was truly an enriching experience.

Kargil stands for courage, patriotism, sacrifice, and victory.

In the snow as ivory,
they call it history
we call it a misfortunate injury.

At home, she awaits, my mother, my world,
while bullets like nightmare fiercely hurled.
But I fight not just with guns and might,
for as Indians we fight for love, truth and what's right.

I hold my pen, not a gun tonight,
beneath a sky without city lights.
I wrote to Ma about love and grace,
not fear though, as war stared at my face.

The mountains echoed of certain songs,
of enemies with guns ready to pounce.
But I held tight my nation's name,
as I burned within a patriot's flame.

They come like shadows in the night,
but I knew I had the fire to see and to fight.
Not wanting to retreat, as I thought of you,
the peaceful sky, the morning dew.

But if I fall, then let it be known,
that this blood is just a split of what I own.
Not gold or diamonds, but the soil so dear,
The motherland, I hold so near.

Roam around in the jungle

Walk, walk in the jungle
I always feel a scary jiggle,
I think the jungle is full
Of scary monsters and ghosts.

But not at all!
When I entered,
I saw a beautiful scenes like-
Giraffes chewing on branches
In a tree full of leaves.
Elephants marching away
In a neat, straight line,
It makes my eyes shine.

Birds chirping, cuckoos singing
Oh! I've never been in such a wonderland!
I stand awestruck
I never thought it was,
Such a magical place
In this world.
Oh! What a place,
A lovely pace.
Loads of magic
Loads of adventure.
Roaming around the jungle,
With an exciting jiggle.
